General Information

Freight + Volume is pleased to present its ninth annual season of the DNA artist-in-residence program. Like last season, we plan to give over sixty-five artists the time and space to create on the Cape in Provincetown, MA. They are invited to make new work inspired by their environment or continue their existing studio practice while a resident at the DNA studio. Residency sessions begin and end on Sundays and range from one to two weeks in length throughout the season. The 2020 residency schedule will be posted to www.freightandvolume.com and www.dnaresidency.com by or before June 1st.

Transportation to the Residency from NYC

In addition to residents bringing or renting a car there are a number of options to reach the residency by public transportation. From Port Authority the Peter Pan bus service offers rides to Cape Cod

From Pennsylvania Station, take Amtrak to Boston South Station.

From Boston, the fastest way to get to Provincetown is the Fast Ferry.

There are several bus options between Boston and Chamber of Commerce.

From South Station in Boston, you can take a bus to Hyannis Transportation Center, then from Hyannis to Chamber of Commerce in Provincetown.

Studio and Housing

First stop on your trip is the DNA Studio. The address for the studio is 288 Bradford St, Provincetown, MA 02657, on the second floor of the Tennis Club. Bathroom is located on the first floor-- one set of keys for the studio are always stored in the lockbox (code 1492) on the side door on the left of the building. Keys for the apartment should always be left for arriving residents on the table in the front room of the studio.

Second stop is the apartment once you have the keys.

We have a brand new 2 Bedroom apartment (One King bed, One Full) on a quiet street, located at 2 Winthrop Place, Unit 2C, near the center of town, with a deck and in house washer/drier, WiFi and cable. Service or ESA animals are allowed. Please bring your own bedding and towels. We encourage artists to bring their own supplies. Art materials can be purchased at Artist Loft or Conwell Hardware and Lumber.

Check in for new arrivals is after 4pm on Sunday, and Check out is at noon on Sunday. Please make sure all sheets and towels from apartment, bathroom and kitchen are clean and ready for the next artist-in-residence, and that all dishes are cleaned. There's a public laundromat at 68 Shank Painter Road..

Parking availability at apt: There is only one available parking spot by the apartment, and two parking spots in the driveway at the studio marked "DNA Gallery Only" which artists can share amongst themselves.

If you find parking by the apartment, please try to park up against the house as close as possible. Unfortunately, the driveway is tighter at the entrance. Although, you could also try to park next door at the frame shop (same side as the studio as you head out of town). But please keep an eye out on parking times, as we are not sure how the street is monitored.

SEE IMAGE BELOW FOR PARKING ASSISTANCE.

NOTE: Consider leaving note on the dashboard with a phone number so if there's a problem the other renters can contact you.

Trips to the studio, supermarket, post office and of course, the beach and seashore trails are essential and allowed during quarantine. Artists can Google Provincetown for further activities such as: hiking, biking, whale watching, fishing, beaches, national seashores, and restaurants. There are three bikes available for use. You may have to bring/purchase your own padlocks. Artists are responsible for bike maintenance. Additionally, there should be plastic sheets available to use to protect the floors of the studio. Please feel free to use that, and finally for any works stored, you can use the flat file, but please ensure it is labeled with your name and any other information.

For all questions and concerns contact Aya at aya@freightandvolume@gmail.com. For emergency's only contact Nick at 917-880-7299.

No overnight stays permitted in the studio space at any time. No smoking permitted inside or outside apartment/studio.

General Cleanup and Departure Instructions

Ensure one set of keys for the studio is still in the lockbox on the side door (code: 1492). All additional keys should be left on desk in in the front room of the studio. Kindly leave a bottle of wine in the apartment/refrigerator for the next group of artists. Feel free to leave a drawing and/or note in the communal journal. This journal will serve as a collective record for the 2020 residency season and will be kept in the front room of the studio. Any old food, trash and recycling should go in the Tennis Club trash containers on the ground floor below the balcony.

It is to be expected that the trash bins may be visited by raccoons and/or foxes. Please ensure that all bags are properly sealed, that the lids are secured tightly and the black handle is locking the lid in the upright position.

Trash and recycling gets picked up once a week on Sunday night. If we've run out of small trash bags, we ask that someone pick up a box from the deli down the street. Brushes should not be washed in the Tennis Club sink on the ground floor, instead please use a bucket. Please make sure studio floors are kept clean and free of paint, clean drop cloths are stored in the front room closet. Dirty drop cloths should be disposed of properly before you leave. Be sure to close all windows except for the drawstring window above the back doors-- those remain open all season.

If an artist needs help or advice regarding transporting their work from the residency to their studio please contact Nick and Aya to coordinate shipping at the end of the season.
